

Introduction

Following Customer Notice LLWR-CN-2016-12 “TC01 and TC03” Licence extension. LLWR is now in a position to launch the new TC01R, fully re-usable variant (no restrictions on cycles or mileage will apply). LLWR would value your feedback on your preferred option from the following:

- Option A - Implement the new TC01R fully re-usable variant and retain the existing TC01 variant as a disposal only container variant, the TC01R will be fitted with a HEPA filter.
- Option B - Implement the TC01R fully re-usable variant for both re-use and disposal, and phase out the existing TC01 variant over period approx. 2 years.

Note – All TC01 variants will be fitted with the new Lid (irrespective of the implementation option).

2017 Package Unit Cost Norms

TC01 disposal variant - £10,100 (including new lid).

TC01R variant - £11,400 (including new lid and HEPA filter).

Points to Consider

- The TC01 disposal variant is a lower cost compared to TC01R, but can only be used for disposal (single use).
- The TC01R can be used multiple times and for disposal also.

LLWR recommendation

LLWR would prefer Option B i.e. to operate a single TC01 variant. The new TC01R engineers out all risks of de-pressurisation or pressurisation and facilitates demonstrable maintenance on all orifices. The TC01R can be used for both re-use and disposal without any reconfiguration.

Customer Action

Customers are advised to take the above into consideration and assess both cost implications, and all aspects of package operational risks associated with operating two variants of a package to inform LLWR of your preference going forward.

A response is required by 15th June 2017 so LLWR can implement the preferred option informed by your feedback

Implementation and transitional arrangements will be communicated once feedback has been evaluated.
