

Introduction

Following Customer Notice LLWR-CN-2017-12 “TC01 Variants available to Customers” and having evaluated the feedback we received, it has been determined that Option A is the preferred.

Option A - Implement the new TC01R fully re-usable variant and retain the existing TC01 as a disposal only container.

This Customer Notice is to inform Customers of both the Package Design Licensing arrangements for the TC01 IP-2 HHISO Containers and the temporary arrangements for those TC01 containers operating under the existing restricted re-use schemes.

Licensing Arrangements for the following TC01 IP-2 HHISO Container variants;

TC01 (Disposal only) Container

The Certificate of Approval IP-2/GB/TC01/IP-96 Issue 10 has been issued today, returning the TC01 IP-2 HHISO to a disposal only variant; Certificate valid until 31/07/2019.

Please note: All TC01 containers being consigned for disposal will operate under this Certificate of Approval.

Transition - existing TC01 IP-2 HHISO containers operating under re-use schemes

Certificate of Approval IP-2/GB/TC01/IP-96 Issue 09 has been extended via letter (Ref: 1LLW-1LLW-0-COO-P-4049) until the 31st July 2018. This allows TC01 containers operating under the restricted re-use schemes, as permitted under the terms of Certificate of Approval IP-2/GB/TC01/IP-96 Issue 09 to be phased out over a controlled period.

The restricted re-use schemes permitted under the terms of IP-2/GB/TC01/IP-96 Issue 09 will not be offered to any new TC01 IP-2 HHISO containers after 31/07/2017.

All TC01 containers being consigned for disposal (at the end of their restricted re-use) MUST be consigned under the new “Disposal” Certificate of Approval Certificate IP-2/GB/TC01/IP-96 Issue 10 (published on the packaging page of the LLWR website)

New TC01R (Reusable) Container

A new TC01R package design has been developed and a new Certificate of Approval will be issued shortly. This new TC01R is a fully re-usable HHISO and has no restrictions on re-use cycles or mileage. An additional LLWR customer notice will be issued following introduction of the new TC01R.
